

How To Access E-books When You Encounter The “Content Is Unavailable for Viewing Error”

If students are getting the message: “This eContent is not included in your library’s collection and is unavailable for viewing.” when they try to access an E-book, have them do the following:

Click the “Login” link in the upper right hand corner of the page; and then use the following username and password to login:

Username: mccoock
Password: MCCstudent

That should solve the problem. They can actually use this password from home as well to access the E-books if they get the same error message when trying to access E-books from off-campus.
